Full Biography

Bishop J. Nathaniel Jamison, D.D., was born in Bridgeport, Connecticut, and raised in Greater Faith Temple, the son of Bishop Micheal Jamison and Pastor Shelly Mercer-Jamison. He preached his first sermon in 2005, was licensed to the ministry in 2008, and became the youngest Elder ordained in Sounds of Praise Pentecostal Fellowship Ministries.

He has served Greater Faith Temple – The Faith Cathedral since 2013, first as Executive Pastor and, since 2025, as Senior Pastor. He is Vice Presider and Vicar General of the Greater Faith Kingdom Network, which he co-founded; Co-Founder and Chief Protocol Officer of the Covenant Apostolic Alliance; and Founder of Rehoboth Kingdom Center, Inc. in Orangeburg, South Carolina. He previously served as District Overseer of the Pee Dee District and as Adjutant General in the Steppingstone Covenant Fellowship.

With more than fourteen years in adjutancy, he is a trusted voice in episcopal protocol throughout the East Coast. As Chief Executive Officer and Principal Consultant of King Hez Enterprises, Inc., he equips churches and organizations in adjutant training, episcopal protocol, leadership development, and governance, including documents, programs, and complete packages for ordinations, installations, investitures, consecrations, and affirmations.

An educator by vocation, he teaches history. He holds a Bachelor of Arts from Claflin University and an honorary Doctor of Divinity from Fellowship Theological Seminary. His honors include an Official Citation from the Connecticut General Assembly and Congressional Citations. He is the author of When the Kingdom Prays: 21 Day Prayer Journal.
